A NOTE FOR THE NEW YEAR

*To family and friends both near and far,
We would like you to know, wherever you are,
That we wish you much joy after this ill-fated year,
And look forward to a future with a little less fear.
In loneliness we learned to appreciate what we had missed,
And looked forward to times we could again hug and kiss.
For those who were able to escape the worst and stay sane,
We hope you remembered those who suffered in pain.
Be thankful for those who put their life on the line,
And get your vaccine whenever it's your time.
Pray for all those whose time, alone, came to an end,
And to their families reach out, be a caring friend.
Let us all hope that 2021 will bring us "more" cheer,
And in safety and joy celebrate together next year.*

ELLEN SAPOSNIK & PEGGY HOLLIS 2020 TOY DRIVE

Dear Temple Sinai Friends,

I want to thank all of you for your incredible generosity to the 2020 Ellen Saposnik & Peggy Hollis Toy Drive. As a result, hundreds of kids received more than one toy for the holidays. Usually, we collect 6 or 7 industrial size bags full of toys. This year we collected 16! Attached is one picture of the many tables full of toys. The toy drive was hosted at a local school for the health and safety of everyone. We were unable to take photos of the kids in compliance of school board restrictions.

Again, on behalf of children who have very few breaks in their lives, THANK YOU!

The Hollis and Saposnik families.

Rabbi Aviva Bass

Happy 2021! While it has been 5781 on our Hebrew calendar for a few months now, I think our communal consciousness is shifting with the change of the secular calendar after the horrible year we have just experienced. I think we all will be glad when we can view 2020 in our rearview mirror. It gives new meaning to the saying, "Hindsight is 2020!"

This secular year, I have as a goal for our congregation to continue to remain strong and tighter than ever before. One of the gifts that we can say has come from our reliance on virtual communal gathering online is that we can get to know one another in new and different groupings in various social circles. During this pandemic, we have already begun many new social opportunities. For instance, a new caring community program began as an outgrowth of the desire to stay in touch with and to provide hope to all in our congregation. Volunteers each have a list of about 20 people to call regularly on the phone to check in on how they are doing. I hope that you are familiar with that program and have had conversations with the volunteer assigned to you. We have created opportunities for all the members assigned to a particular volunteer to gather virtually to get to know one another. Additionally, several social/ game nights have been offered on Thursday evenings, which have proven successful. From now on, I plan to host live virtual social meetings every other Thursday evening, sometimes as game nights and sometimes simply for congregants to chat with one another. In addition, we are offering monthly virtual onegs after our Friday night services. In addition to these opportunities, Jake Harris, our Cantorial Soloist is hosting "Jakey Live," and I will continue recording videos with my husband Scott Solkoff to be posted regularly on our Temple Sinai YouTube channel (please subscribe!)

For my recorded interviews, I would like your input! The topics of these have not all been pre-determined, and I want to know what you would like to hear me speak about. Please email me at rabbiavivab@gmail.com with questions or ideas. (Make sure you include the "b" after rabbiaviva in that email address!) Please write "Ask the rabbi" in the subject line of your email. I cannot promise that I will respond to all of these, but I will try to do so over the course of the next several months.

As we begin 2021, I would like to express my gratitude to all of you who have stuck with Temple Sinai through this difficult time in our lives and our world. None of us could have foreseen what has occurred this year with the global pandemic, social distancing, and virtual-only gatherings. However, our congregation has remained strong. In some ways, our community has become stronger than ever, in terms of the closeness of our relationships. You are what has made this all possible. We have all proven that Temple Sinai is not the building--the people in our synagogue make us who we are: a warm, close-knit community that is truly a home. Thank you for your continued participation and support.

This new year has been one which has left me wondering. To affix "Happy" to the New Year's greeting almost seems tacky with how much collective loss we have sustained in our country and our world. Another familiar trope of the new year is the idea of resolutions. What new exercise activity will I engage in? What foods are we swearing off of? For the type of year it has been, keeping promises to ourselves seems unrealistic, which can lead to feelings of being overwhelmed, angry, or helpless.

What I have prescribed for myself is a unique type of resolution: I will do my best. No heroic or grandiose gestures, just to put in a solid effort every time. I strive to be more forgiving of myself when I don't reach my goals. To be honest with myself about my work ethic, and support myself in areas where I need improvement. I will work to be more patient with others who might have differing views than me while also staying true to the beliefs I know to be justified. Most of all, I promise to those around me, that my undying passion for unity through song, will continue to resound until we are able to look back on 2021 with a cordial handshake, a hug, or an arm around the shoulder. I look forward to when I can feel justified in my words when I smile at someone and say "Hey, Happy New Year."

Much Love,

Jake

Dear Friends,

FOR THE LOVE OF SINAI

We are especially grateful to member, Jeanne Hirshberg and her cousin, Mark Alimansky, the trustees of the estate of former members, Rita and Sol Toscher z"l. The Toschers retired to Delray Beach from Massachusetts in the 1990's and joined Temple Sinai. They also remained connected with Rita's ancestral community near Pittsfield, MA.

Sol and Rita Toscher

For the past 16 years, after both had passed on, the Rita and Sol Toscher Memorial Fund, awarded an annual gift in support of our congregation, Religious School and Youth Activities. The Toschers' legacy has ensured the continuity of our children learning Jewish values. It is always heartwarming when former Religious School students come back for High Holy Day services and we see the Jewish adults they have become. It proves that Rita and Sol knew exactly what they were doing and why.

This year, their niece and nephew, Jeanne and Mark liquidated the Toscher Fund and presented significant gifts to Temple Sinai as well as other Jewish organizations in Western Massachusetts. We offer our extreme thanks to Jeanne, Mark and of course, the Toschers, for all the years of support and for this last and best gift, which came at the perfect time.

What a beautiful legacy, to affect the lives of so many children and adults who have come and will come through our doors. All of us are dedicated to continue the meaningful traditions of our people. If you would like to arrange a legacy gift to Temple Sinai, please contact Lynne & Betti.

Last March, when we "temporarily" suspended activities in our building, none of us could have anticipated that we would end the year 2020 as a virtual synagogue community. It's only fitting that, on Saturday night, March 13, 2021, exactly one year after our "temporary" closure, in a historical moment, we will honor Rabbi Aviva and Cantor Jake, and celebrate our love for Temple Sinai, past, present and FUTURE, at a Virtual Gala "For the Love of Sinai." We will be sharing more information in the coming weeks. If you love Temple Sinai, you will want to be included!

With Appreciation to Everyone,

Lynne & Betti

THE CONSUMMATE CONSUMER™

HOW TO AVOID CONSUMER DISPUTES

BY: JOSEPH GREIF, JD, CPA

Maybe you shouldn't read this. After all, there are many types of consumers. Not all of you want to avoid disputes. Some of you may relish chances to tangle online or by phone with company reps far away who answer your questions by reading "canned answers" from their screens. If that describes you, turn the page.

On the other hand, if you would rather have a root canal than spend another hour on the phone with "customer service", read on. You can avoid most of those torturous sessions by implementing the "lessons learned" below.

LESSONS LEARNED FROM CONSUMER DISPUTES

1. ONLINE PRODUCTS THAT DO NOT WORK: Do not buy products online if they are things that "may not work". Instead buy that type of product at a store where you are sure in advance that you can return it "no questions asked" if it does not work. Online purchases that "do not work" may leave you stranded between the seller who never actually promised it would work and your credit card company that claims it only protects you against "billing errors" not "nonworking product" disputes.
2. PREPAYMENTS: Do not prepay for services or memberships or classes. Instead, "pay as you go". The seller may keep your money if you are unable to obtain all the services or enjoy the membership for the full term or attend all the classes. The seller may insist it has a "no refund" policy, which is buried in mouse print of "terms and conditions" you "signed" when you "initialed" a box on their computer screen.
3. REFUND PROMISES: Do not rely on web sites promising "100% refund if you are not satisfied". That is often only an unenforceable marketing technique. If a refund is important to you, go to the store you know that has ALWAYS refunded your money before and buy the item there.
4. AUTOMATIC RENEWALS: Do not purchase anything with an "automatic renewal" feature. This is common for subscriptions and memberships of all kinds. Often, the automatic renewal is buried in mouse print of "terms and conditions" you "signed" when you "initialed" a box on a computer screen. The automatic renewal may lead to months and months of fees for services you no longer want but cannot avoid once the company has your credit card or bank account data.
5. ASTERISKS AND MOUSE PRINT RED FLAGS: Do not purchase products sold from ads with multiple asterisks or lines of mouse print. The purpose of the asterisks and the mouse print is to "disclose" that the product is NOT what you expect based on the ad.
6. PURCHASES FROM UNKNOWN COMPANIES: Do not buy products online from a company you do not know. The "company" may be two guys in a basement in Newark or some students in a small town in Asia with a name you cannot pronounce and a true address you will never locate.
7. NONREFUNDABLE DEPOSITS: Do not make purchases requiring nonrefundable deposits unless you are prepared to forever "kiss that money goodbye". Those companies know that many circumstances can arise that would make you seek a refund. The seller may not care if the circumstance is beyond your control (like a hurricane or a death in the family). If you cannot afford to lose the money, do not make the deposit.
8. TRAVEL INSURANCE ILLUSIONS: Do not rely on being saved from a disaster by purchasing "travel insurance". The marketed policy may have more exclusions than the number of holes in a slice of Swiss cheese. The one exception is the “loss for any reason” policy. However, that costs a whole lot more and even that policy may not cover “any reason” (such as a loss triggered by a pandemic).

9. WARRANTIES: Do not rely on so-called warranties offered with products. Most consumer warranties are not worth the paper on which they are written. Instead, they accomplish the opposite by expressly superseding broader warranties available to you by law and replacing them with extremely limited warranties from which few consumers will ever benefit. Worse yet, the offered warranty may include waivers of liability and the right to sue, which reduce your rights.
10. CREDIT CARD BANK DISPUTE RESOLUTION: Do not rely on the dispute resolution department of your credit card company. The company will not give you its written dispute resolution policy stating your rights to a credit to your account when a purchase fails, because there is no written policy. Filing a claim with the company may help but you are at its mercy.
11. FATAL EMOTIONAL COMMITMENTS: Do not get “emotionally committed” to a specific purchase, product, company or service. Once you cross that line, you can kiss these lessons learned goodbye. Mistakes will pile on top of mistakes. You will have lost the dispute before it ever arose. You might as well give the company your checkbook and credit cards and say “thanks for the memories”.
12. CONSUMER REPORTS IS YOUR FRIEND: Rely on Consumer Reports publications. They do not guarantee your happiness but they do substantially reduce your risk of errors that lead to unhappiness and unresolved disputes.

You do not have to suffer with endless hours of “customer service” calls. Just implement these lessons learned. Maybe you will enjoy life more.

Arlene Robert z"l

A TRIBUTE TO ARLENE ROBERT FROM THE "LIBRARY LADIES"

Barbara Cooper: When the firm I worked for went out of business I didn't know what to do with my days. I was so bored. When the Temple asked for help in the Library, I was thrilled to volunteer and there is where I met the Librarian, Arlene Robert. I worked all my life, but never worked for as wonderful, kind and caring a person as Arlene. She always had a smile and a thoughtful word for everyone. Through Arlene's hardworking efforts, and the Library staff's help, she made it into a computerized and up-to-date library. I miss Arlene's Book Reviews and great stories, her wonderful smile and fabulous personality.

Gloria Levin: I met Arlene 20 years ago at a Hadassah meeting and we became fast friends. She told me she was a librarian at Temple Sinai and asked if I would like to be a volunteer. Working in the library with Arlene was a great learning and educational experience. She was a great teacher. Arlene was smart, kind, caring and generous. She was also my drinking buddy and I miss her.

Lillian Nadler: It was a great privilege to be associated with the Temple Sinai Library. Arlene guided the Library along great heights, choosing books both old and new with great care. Her work required knowledge of Judaism, Hebrew, Jewish history and many other important facets of the Jewish religion. And if asked a question, she usually knew the answer or knew exactly where to find the answer. The efficiency of a Library's functioning all takes place smoothly and quietly and Arlene Robert was a lady of class, caring and complete dedication. I will miss her.

Evelyn Reich: Arlene Robert came into my life through the Temple Sinai Library. She was the librarian and I the avid reader. Having recently completed my Bat Mitzvah, I was looking for other avenues to pursue. I loved spending time with Arlene and enjoyed her recommendations for books to read. Reading and learning more about our Judaic life gave me a greater desire to explore our Jewish history. Thank you Arlene for being a perfect mentor to me.

Helene Wartel: Arlene Robert was the Temple Sinai Librarian for many years. Her dedication to Temple Sinai was immeasurable. She engaged our Religious School students, reading stories to the younger ones and guiding them as they progressed through their religious education. Arlene loved books and loved Judaism and found the perfect vehicle to transmit that love throughout her years at Temple Sinai. Even after her retirement, when her beloved husband Joe passed away, she returned to the library to help out with the Temple Archives, facilitating book club meetings and generally offering great advice for those of us who attempted to follow in her footsteps. Her advice was thoughtful and tactful and always supportive for the Library and us.

But Arlene was not just the Temple Librarian. She was a vibrant, elegant, smart woman with a great sense of humor, which she did not hesitate to share. It was always fun spending time in the library or going out to lunch as a group. Arlene was a tough act to follow, but follow her we did because she instilled in us her values of volunteering and Judaism. She was a good friend and we all miss her.

SAVE ON TAXES?

You can avoid taxes and save money by having a distribution from your Individual Retirement Account (IRA) sent directly to Temple Sinai. The donation can be used to pay dues, towards a temple project or as a general donation (this can be used by the Temple as needed). The funds must be sent as a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD). Contact us about your plans, then ask your IRA trustee or custodian how to proceed.

You can avoid capital gains taxes on appreciated shares of stock that you own by donating the shares to Temple Sinai. As above, the money can be used for any temple bill, project or as a general donation.

Contact us and we will give you instructions on what to tell your broker. After the shares are transferred to our account, we will sell them and credit your account for the net proceeds (after the fees and expenses are paid). If you have stock that you don't want to sell because of the taxes, this is a win/win for both you and Temple Sinai.

You should realize savings even if you don't itemize. If you do, it shouldn't count as income AND you should be able to take the deduction. As with any financial matter, you should consult your own financial representative or tax advisor to see if these techniques will benefit you.

Dear Friends,

Our deadline for ads in our 2021 Journal is January 13th. As this year is unique and some of our past advertisers may not be able to participate, we are asking for each of you to take an ad (any size) or Jewels to help us make this successful. If you can solicit an ad from a professional or other place you deal with, this will help us achieve our numbers.

We truly appreciate all you have done to help Temple Sinai continue in these trying times.

Todah Rabah.

Judy Stern,
Journal Chair

SPECIAL AUCTION REQUEST

Temple Sinai's 2021 Auction will be online only. Due to COVID, we plan to concentrate on gift cards and other items that are easily mailed.

Soon we will be asking local businesses to donate gift cards, golf packages, hotel stays, hair and nail services, etc. We're not sure what they will be able to give in this difficult year.

Would you consider purchasing a gift card from your favorite restaurant or other local business to add to our Auction? Your purchase will help the business AND your Temple. The success of our Auction is more important than ever this year.

If you are able to help, please drop gift cards at the Temple between 9:00am and 3:00pm on weekdays, or mail them, marked "Attention: Auction." Please add a note with your name so we can thank you.

If you have questions, please leave a message at 561-276-6161 Ext. 128 or email Fundraising@TempleSinaiPBC.org;

Our online Auction, through "BiddingForGood," is already popular with bidders around the country. Temple members and their friends and families are especially encouraged to bid online this year, since there will be no in-person bidding. Look for links to the Auction in February.

Thank you,

David Cotton
Auction Chair

...along with all of the ill among us. Grant insight to those who bring healing, courage and faith to those who are sick, love and strength to us and to all who love them. God, let your spirit rest upon all who are ill and comfort them. May they and we soon know a time of complete healing, a healing of the body and a healing of the spirit and let us say: Amen.

JOIN OUR TENTS

We are putting together several social groups, to be known as “Tents,” to keep us connected and entertained during these difficult times.

“Tents” are groups meeting on Zoom by areas of interest. In order to enable full socializing, we need to keep the groups small, so we are not talking over each other.

I’ve put together some ideas for groups, and I’m sure you have many ideas as well. I’m listing mine. Contact me if one of these catches your interest, or if you have another idea for a group.
