ACTS OF CARING & KINDNESS

Helping our community in so many ways!

In early January, Temple Sinai came together to participate in community kindness. We had scheduled a blood drive and heard that Symphony at Delray Beach partners with organizations to “Stuff their Bus” with non-perishable food items to assist food pantries. So we added that to the mix.

A generous family (thank you Ed & Sima Greenblat!) offered a $500 matching challenge for those who preferred to make a cash donation to the Jacobson Food Pantry.

We're proud to say that our congregation met and exceeded that challenge, contributing $2500 to Jacobson Food Pantry. Temple members also STUFFED THE BUS with non-perishable foods to stock the Pantry's shelves.

Thank you to Ed and Sima for initiating this wonderful mitzvah and to all who contributed food and funds.

To top it off, the blood drive was our most successful yet! Mark your calendars, the next blood drive is scheduled for Wednesday, April 7th from 2 to 7 p.m.

Purim is the next Jewish holiday we will celebrate, this year on Friday, February 26. Purim and Yom Kippur were thought by the ancient rabbis to connect with one another. Yom Kippur (Yom Hakippurim) is even sometimes translated as Yom Ki-Purim, “the day like Purim,” by our ancient rabbis. But what does this happy holiday of costumes, graggers, sometimes outrageous Purim shpiels possibly have to do with the solemnity of Yom Kippur?

They are, in fact, the two poles of the same spectrum of behaviors. On Yom Kippur, we fast and spend the entire day in self-contemplation, uninterrupted even by our own bodily needs. On Yom Kippur, we strip away all adornments and stand before the Divine as we are, clothed in white, in preparation for our “clean slate.” Purim is the exact opposite of this, as we feast, spend the day having silly fun, dressing in funny and often colorful costumes, and traditionally drinking enough alcohol so that we “cannot distinguish between bless Mordechai and curse Haman.” Part of the Purim celebration is also the wearing of masks.

On Purim, we hide who we are, masquerading as someone else. It is a day of “let’s pretend,” but not only reserved for children—rather, for people of all ages to enjoy. We try to make one another laugh, and we forget about the troubles of the outside world for a while. Even the Divine is absent from the story—G-d is not mentioned in the Book of Esther—and we let loose of many of the constrictions of every day.

Purim masks enable us to let go and to make believe. They enable us to step fully into the child-like play we enjoy on this holiday. Yet these days, the wearing of masks has entirely other connotations. Masks are associated with the pandemic now, with the seriousness of keeping ourselves and others safe and healthy from an unseen enemy. They have become a symbol of our day, commercialized with various types and styles available, and even, however wrong-minded it may be, politicized. But, despite the styles, masks are anything but fun.

For masks to work, they are necessarily cumbersome, especially in hot weather outside. Breathing becomes more difficult. They are a constant reminder that these are not “normal” times.

So, what do we do about celebrating Purim this year? We need it perhaps more than ever—a break from our worry about the virus and the vaccine. (Look for more information about our congregational virtual Purim celebration in our email and Constant Contacts).

Yet there is no denying that Purim will, necessarily, be different this year. We cannot read the Megillah from the bimah, nor have the annual parade of costumes in the sanctuary. Instead, we will “Zoom.” It is the second Purim we will not gather because of the pandemic. This holiday marks exactly one year from when we first closed the synagogue to our congregation, when we canceled our congregation’s Purim shpiel.

We have much to mourn, especially the tremendous loss of lives to this pandemic. Yet, we also have much to celebrate. We made it through this horrible year, and we can see the light at the end of the tunnel. We have vaccines, and they are coming—perhaps more slowly than we would like—but all of us will be vaccinated, if we can just remain patient and not do anything too risky in the meantime.

Purim will continue. And we will celebrate Purim in the future in our sanctuary again, perhaps next year, G-d willing. But Purim masquerading feels different to me now and I suspect many of us. For me, I do not know if I will ever want to wear any kind of mask “for fun.” I think as a Purim prop for me in the future, perhaps just the gragger will be more my speed...

"a musical message from Jake"

Cantorial Soloist

Jake Harris

One thing that I find very strange about living in Florida is the lack of spring. Being a New Englander, there was always an unbelievable redemption that came every year when the first signs of spring would sprout. The feeling was amplified based on how severe the winter was that preceded it. Sometimes as the spring months progressed, there would be another snowstorm in March, April, or even May. While that isolated incident might have been a nuisance, in general there was a feeling that we had made it through another winter. There was a guarantee of beautiful weather on the horizon.

Since living here, it's been the opposite. I can't wait until the summer's over and the cooler months start to come.

I don't see the fall foliage or get into my car to drive out to an apple orchard. I see iguanas and lizards when I walk with palm leaves strewn about as they fall from the trees. Although I don't have the apple picking or colorful leaves, I notice that in Florida in the winter my garden grows much better. I love to take walks outside and the weather is arguably "perfect" in every sense of the word. I get to compare temperatures with my parents in Cambridge every morning, usually 80 degrees here to 30 there. Even though there isn't spring like up north, I get the same vibes going from more intense weather to more pleasant weather, a common theme!

As we move towards what we hope is the end of this pandemic, I feel a similar feeling of redemption and renewal. Even with the vaccine out, there is still uncertainty as to when exactly we will be back to safety and normalcy. Similar to the April Fools' snowstorms which come after the season seems to be moving in a more pleasant direction, we might have an indirect road to full resolution. Just like when it snows in April, I know that the momentum towards a better season is one that cannot be stopped.

Much Love,

Jake

Dear Friends:

With great excitement, we invite you to participate in our virtual gala, "For the Love of Sinai," honoring Rabbi Aviva and Cantor Jake. They have worked tirelessly to learn new ways and technology for worship, education, camaraderie and keeping us connected to each other. Through their leadership, it has become clear that Temple Sinai is not the building, it is the people!

"For the Love of Sinai" will premiere on Saturday, March 13th at 8 p.m. and will also be available on-demand to watch any time after that. Our host for the evening, Scott Solkoff, will introduce a variety of musical performers, reflections on Temple Sinai's impact on our lives, a few laughs and some surprises. There will also be prize drawings throughout the broadcast. Anyone who registers to get the link (see below) will be automatically entered into the drawings.

Although Temple Sinai's financial needs are great, our congregation is always thinking of the overwhelming hunger problem in our community. With our Jewish values in mind, we will donate 10% of our net proceeds from this event to Feeding South Florida. For just $10, they are able to provide 90 meals for those in need.

Please honor your Clergy, sustain Temple Sinai and assist those in need by supporting the Gala!

THE CONSUMMATE CONSUMER™

HOW VACCINATED CONSUMERS CAN SOCIALIZE SAFELY

BY: JOSEPH GREIF, JD, CPA

Good news for vaccinated people! You can do more now than before. Bad news for vaccinated people! You cannot do everything you want to do! Ugly news for vaccinated people! You might still spread the pandemic.

This column offers common sense ideas, not medical advice. I discussed it with my Internist, who agreed that since clinical trials for the approved vaccinations did not study safety of post-vaccination behavior, common sense is all we can practice. However, some experts have thought about this and support this general approach

David Leonhardt, a New York Time's columnist, interviewed several public health experts on the vaccines' effectiveness and how vaccinated people should proceed. Among his experts were Dr. Ashish Jha, Dean of the Brown School of Public Health, Dr. Peyer Hotez, Baylor College of Medicine, and Dr. Aaron Richterman, infectious disease expert at the University of Pennsylvania. Based on those interviews, Mr. Leonhardt offered this consolidated approach to post-vaccination safe socializing.

"People who have received both of their vaccine shots, and have waited until they take effect, will be able to do things that unvaccinated people cannot—like having meals together and hugging their grandchildren. But, until the pandemic is defeated, all Americans should wear masks in public, help unvaccinated people stay safe and contribute to a shared national project of saving every possible life."

A. SAFE SOCIALIZING WITHOUT MASKS OR SOCIAL DISTANCING

Vaccinated people can socialize safely with other vaccinated people (for a total group of 2-4) by getting together privately at each other's homes. You can "eat, drink and be merry." Nobody needs to cook. You can enjoy the convenience of restaurant take out, delivery, or curbside pickup.

Also, 2-4 vaccinated people can get together outside at a park, or walk together, or eat outdoors at a restaurant, preferably at an end table away from unvaccinated people.

Similarly, 2-4 vaccinated people can play an outdoor sport with minimal close contact to unvaccinated people, such as singles (preferable) or doubles tennis or pickleball. Depending on the strength of your convictions to protect unvaccinated players, you could consider not sharing the same balls or other equipment and also wearing masks. Avoid victory hugs with the unvaccinated.

Lastly, vaccinated people can ride in a car with other vaccinated people, if you know in advance that the other person is vaccinated.

B. SAFE SOCIALIZING WITH MASKS AND SOCIAL DISTANCING

One critical issue not studied in clinical trials is the extent to which vaccinated people who, of course, continue after vaccination to breathe in and breathe out the virus, can still transmit the disease to unvaccinated people. Because that is so important, the CDC recommends continuing usage of masks and social distancing to protect the unvaccinated population and reduce hospitalizations and deaths.

For those of you who follow the Jewish precept of Tikkun Olam, saying that Jews bear responsibility for the welfare of society at large, the emphasis on masks and social distancing to protect unvaccinated people should not be a surprise or disappointment. Therefore, these activities and similar ones require vaccinated people who may be exposed to unvaccinated people to use masks and social distancing:

- Gathering with 2-4 people at their homes or other indoor places without eating or drinking (so masks stay on).
- Shopping at supermarkets, retail stores, and pharmacies.
- Getting a haircut or salon treatment.
- Going to a hotel overnight.
- Getting your car washed.
- Going to fitness gyms that enforce safe procedures.
- Hiring a home housekeeper or other home repair workers.

C. UNSAFE SOCIALIZING BECAUSE MASKS AND DISTANCING ARE NOT USED

Completely avoid these activities because they are done without both masks and social distancing.

- Eating indoors at restaurants or unvaccinated peoples' homes or events.
- Attending movies, theaters, sporting, entertainment events or religious services.
- Going to an airport or getting on an airplane (see recent Canadian report of thousands of positive COVID tests by Americans flying on US airlines).
- Taking a cruise.
- Going to fitness gyms that do not enforce safe procedures.
- Riding in a car with another person or driver who you cannot confirm in advance to be vaccinated (mask not enough when social distancing not possible).

D. THINKING BEFORE SOCIALIZING

As mentioned above, these ideas require common sense. Applying common sense requires critical thinking. Before you plan an activity, think about whether the specific circumstances support the common sense of the idea or refute it. There are many circumstances that could refute an idea especially when a vaccinated person regularly contacts an unvaccinated person. Before you socialize with another vaccinated person, you need to ask common sense questions, such as:

- You and I are both vaccinated and have dinner alone at your home. We both live alone and have no vulnerable relatives or other unvaccinated people with whom we are in contact. Sounds okay to continue.
- BUT.....what if you live with an unvaccinated spouse or child? In that case, my breathing on you is just like my breathing on your unvaccinated spouse or child. Suddenly, I am NOT really alone with only a vaccinated person!!
- ALSO....what if I help out an unvaccinated disabled friend or relative by visiting him frequently to assist with dressing, medicines and obtaining food? Same problem. When you breathe on me, it is just as if you are breathing on him.
- AND.....what about your vaccinated friends who eat indoors at restaurants with their unvaccinated friends surrounded by dozens of other non-distanced, non-masked unvaccinated people for 2 hours? Are those vaccinated friends good candidates for safe socializing?

Think before socializing. The goal is slowing the virus spread and ending the pandemic by protecting the unvaccinated from the “no symptoms” transmission from vaccinated people. While small gatherings of vaccinated people-----who do NOT come into contact with unvaccinated people----are much safer than gatherings of unvaccinated people, scientists do not yet know whether those gatherings are 100% safe.

These ideas are not all-inclusive. Decide which category another activity falls in by reference to those above. Focus on the goal of protecting unvaccinated people to slow and end the pandemic. You might consider contacting someone you know well enough with whom to be candid but who plans to NOT get vaccinated. Tactfully point out the wisdom of getting vaccinated not only for their own safety but also because unvaccinated people will cut themselves off from vaccinated people who want to protect them, meaning that unvaccinated people will not be able to:

- safely socialize with vaccinated people
- safely obtain needed in-person help from vaccinated family members or friends
- safely provide needed in-person help to vaccinated family members or friends

If this is within your comfort zone, then mark your calendar for the 14th day after your second vaccination!! Then, invite 1-2 vaccinated friends/family to your home for hugging and laughing!! And, optionally, for food and drink.

"Between Book Ends"

LIBRARY UPDATE

Thank you to all who have donated books to our Library. Not only have we added to our collection, but we are also making a few shekels through our e-bay store for the benefit of Temple Sinai. Any surplus books have been donated to Florida Breast Cancer and the Palm Beach Literacy Coalition. We try to find a good home for every donation.

Book Club Dates - Zoom

Thursday, February 18th-11am

The selection is "Morality" by Rabbi Jonathan Sacks. I expect a relevant and timely conversation.

We look forward to interesting discussions. If anyone is interested in facilitating either of these or any future books, please let me know.

New On Our Shelves

"Family Papers: A Sephardic Journey Through the Twentieth Century" by Sarah Abrevaya Stein. This is a non-fiction chronicle of a Sephardic family from Salonika that will transport you world-wide.

"The Convert" by Stefan Hertmans, a novel set in the 11th century Europe.

BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE FROM THE LIBRARY BY APPOINTMENT.

(for safety purposes)

PLEASE CALL ME AT:
561-381-4872, HELENE.

Zoom invitations will be sent out the week prior to our meeting. If you are not already on our list, please email me at Sjwhwtw@comcast.net and I will send you an invitation.

Also, if you have books (Judaica and other) to donate to the Temple, I will be happy to pick them up if they are bagged or boxed and in your garage or outside your home. Just call me.

I look forward to seeing you all on Zoom.

SAVE ON TAXES?

You can avoid taxes and save money by having a distribution from your Individual Retirement Account (IRA) sent directly to Temple Sinai. The donation can be used to pay dues, towards a temple project or as a general donation (this can be used by the Temple as needed). The funds must be sent as a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD). Contact us about your plans, then ask your IRA trustee or custodian how to proceed.

You can avoid capital gains taxes on appreciated shares of stock that you own by donating the shares to Temple Sinai. As above, the money can be used for any temple bill, project or as a general donation.

Contact us and we will give you instructions on what to tell your broker. After the shares are transferred to our account, we will sell them and credit your account for the net proceeds (after the fees and expenses are paid). If you have stock that you don't want to sell because of the taxes, this is a win/win for both you and Temple Sinai.

You should realize savings even if you don't itemize. If you do, it shouldn't count as income AND you should be able to take the deduction. As with any financial matter, you should consult your own financial representative or tax advisor to see if these techniques will benefit you.

DONATIONS IN MEMORY OF LOVED ONES CAN BE MADE TO TEMPLE SINAI.

(To make a donation, please call the Temple office or go online.

1. Go to our website TempleSinaipbc.org.
2. Scroll down to the bottom of the page.
3. Click on the small donate button next to the word "DIRECTIONS."
4. Choose the amount you'd like to donate and other options from the drop-down menu.

Condolence Notices

When our congregants experience a loss in their immediate family (spouse, sibling, parent, child) we want to send out a condolence notice via email, notifying the rest of the congregation in a timely manner. Rabbi Aviva also wants to make sure to add them to the list of recent deaths (within the past 30 days) that is read on Shabbat. This depends entirely on the surviving family providing the following information to our office staff at 561-276-6161 Ext. 123 or 112, or to Rabbi Aviva at (954) 330-4434.

- Name and date of the deceased (before or after sundown)
- Time and place of the funeral or memorial service
- Time and address of the Shiva following the funeral or memorial service
- Information on where to make a donation in memory of the deceased

Let your Temple Family be there for your sorrows as well as your Simchas.

BROTHERHOOD NEWS

Dear Brotherhood Members and Friends,

This past year has been a hard time for many people. I hope this concert series brings a little sunshine into your life.

Our first concert was held in January with Moshe Katzburg, and the feedback from everyone shows it was a success. We had 68 screens with over 100 viewers participate. On February 9th at 8PM on Zoom Broadcast, Alexander Mikhaylovsky will be our next entertainer.

Alex is one of the best entertainers Lakeridge Greens ever had, and I know you will enjoy this concert. Please contact Stan Rieger to reserve your spot either by e-mailing him at SLRIEGER3@GMAIL.COM OR calling his telephone number at 561-292-2694. An email with your link to join the Zoom Concert will be sent 1 week prior to the event. Donations are welcomed to support future events

Tickets were mailed out for the Brotherhood Fundraiser Raffle benefitting Temple Sinai.

1st prize will be $1000.00

2nd prize will be $500.00

3rd prize will be $300.00 L'DOR V'DOR WALL PLAQUE

Ticket Costs are $10.00 a ticket and $50.00 for 6 tickets

It is my hope that by September of this year, things will get back to normal and we can see everyone in Temple on Friday nights. I would like to see the Temple Brotherhood holds many events such as trips to Baseball, Basketball, Football and Hockey Games. What would you like to see our Brotherhood do? If you have any ideas, please call Stan Rieger and let him know what you like to see.

Stay Safe,

Stan Rieger and Marty Gerber
Co-Presidents

A simple way to help YOUR Temple Please Subscribe to Temple Sinai's YouTube Channel (TempleSinaiPBC)

If you've been watching Temple Sinai's Shabbat services or other YouTube videos, you've been on our YouTube Channel. A YouTube Channel is a page where we can keep all of our videos in one place.

If you like Temple Sinai's videos (and what's not to like?), subscribing is a show of support. AND once we get over 1,000 subscribers, our channel can bring in much needed revenue! We now have over 350 subscribers! If you haven't already done so, we need YOU to subscribe, too. Please ask your friends and family to subscribe as well, to build our numbers. It's simple and there's no cost or obligation.

All you (or they) have to do is click the red "subscribe" button that looks like this under any of our videos.

SUBSCRIBE

Temple Sinai will be added to your/their list of preferred channels.

We're optimistic we will get 1,000 subscribers, but with YOUR participation, we can get there sooner!

SPECIAL AUCTION REQUEST

Temple Sinai's 2021 Auction will be online only. Due to COVID, we plan to concentrate on gift cards and other items that are easily mailed.

Soon we will be asking local businesses to donate gift cards, golf packages, hotel stays, hair and nail services, etc. We're not sure what they will be able to give in this difficult year.

Would you consider purchasing a gift card from your favorite restaurant or other local business to add to our Auction? Your purchase will help the business AND your Temple. The success of our Auction is more important than ever this year.

If you are able to help, please drop gift cards at the Temple between 9:00am and 3:00pm on weekdays, or mail them, marked "Attention: Auction." Please add a note with your name so we can thank you.

If you have questions, please leave a message at 561-276-6161 Ext. 128 or email Fundraising@TempleSinaiPBC.org;

Our online Auction, through "BiddingForGood," is already popular with bidders around the country. Temple members and their friends and families are especially encouraged to bid online this year, since there will be no in-person bidding. Look for links to the Auction in February.

Thank you,

David Cotton
Auction Chair

TO OUR TEMPLE SINAI FAMILY,

Our heartfelt thanks to everyone for your condolences on the passing of my beloved wife and our children's mother, Deborah Stephens Santaromita z"l.

You have helped give us the strength to deal with our loss.

Thanks for your support and caring during this time.

Salvatore Santaromita and the Stephens & Santaromita families

A NOTE OF THANKS -

Thank you to everyone for your concern, donations and phone calls for Betti's speedy recovery. Your thoughts and good wishes were greatly appreciated.

Betti & Eric Adams

Thank You!

All for the cards and many condolence phone calls on the loss of my beloved mother, Barbara Katz z"l. It helped make the days a little better.

Jeff & Marcy Katz and family

To Our Temple Sinai Family and Friends,

Thank you to all who called, expressed their condolences and made donations to Temple Sinai in memory of my dear mother, Arlene Robert z"l. It was very much appreciated.

Gratefully,

The Family of Arlene Robert z"l.

JOIN OUR TENTS

We are putting together several social groups, to be known as “Tents,” to keep us connected and entertained during these difficult times.

“Tents” are groups meeting on Zoom by areas of interest. In order to enable full socializing, we need to keep the groups small, so we are not talking over each other.

I’ve put together some ideas for groups, and I’m sure you have many ideas as well. I’m listing mine. Contact me if one of these catches your interest, or if you have another idea for a group.
